Dear Friends,

It has been just over two years since I moved to the area to take up my post as Rector of the churches in Camelford, Lanteglos, Delabole, St Teath and Advent. I arrived just before Easter in a whirlwind of getting to know new people, places and churches and settling into a new pattern of life. Now, with Easter fast approaching, Lent has been a time for me to reflect on the last two years. I have met many wonderful people and made many lovely friends. The teams of people I work with both inside and outside of the church have been so supportive and encouraging. It truly feels like home.

Just as this new season of settling into a new place brought with it both joys and challenges, it was in many ways a reflection of everyday life. This too is reflected in our story of Easter.

Easter marks the new beginning of Christ rising from the tomb, having overcome sin and death and rising to new life. It is a story that was significant to the disciples and the early followers of Jesus, but one that is also significant to us today, when we recognise how our story fits into the story of God and his love for people shown through the life and death of Jesus Christ.

The disciples had journeyed with Jesus for 3 years, listening to his teaching, witnessing his compassion for people, healing the sick and observing outward demonstrations of love, not to just a few but to all who wanted to hear and receive, including those on the margins of society. The disciples were often confused and bewildered as Jesus prepared them for his final days where they would be part of the triumphant ride into Jerusalem, waving palms and shouting Hallelujah, to the sharing of the final meal together, where Jesus performed an outrageous act of love and service as he washed their feet. This led on to the anguishing pain of the horrific crucifixion, the lowest point where they thought their friend was gone, to the glorious moment of the resurrection where they gradually started to understand all he had been telling them. They realised that a story that had been full of despair and hopelessness was quite the opposite. It was an act of love that brought about a new season of life, one that was full of hope and transformation.

We each have our own life story, and we can often feel confused and bewildered at the complexities of life. But are we willing, like the disciples, to trust Jesus, even if we don't fully understand, in order that we too can find that hope and love in our own lives?

Holy Week takes us on a journey of emotions, from celebration to sadness and back into the glorious light of Easter and the resurrection. You are warmly invited to services across our group of churches that enter into this story, details can be found in the churches or on the website at camelallenchurches.org.uk. I pray that the glorious light of Easter will allow the love of Christ, as he opened wide his arms on the cross, to embrace you afresh this year as you are reminded of this truth.

'For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life.'

John 3:16

May you have a Blessed Easter.
Reverend Nicki

We also share the sad news of the unexpected death of Sue Wilcox, long-time Reader [LLM] in the Camel-Allen Churches. Sue loved to share the Good News of Jesus with children - and having been a primary school teacher for many years, was well skilled in so doing.

It is important to the Ministry Team to be aware when people in our parishes are unwell, have suffered a bereavement or other situation. YOU are the eyes and ears in our communities! Please do pass on details when you hear of them - tho' please ask for permission from the person / family before giving us a 'phone number. Thank you

We are called to grow our churches. To enable more people to come to know Jesus as their Lord, to help bring in God's Kingdom here and now. Everything we do must be firmly grounded in prayer, and to that end, to help us all to pray, brightly coloured prayer cards have been produced for each one of us and for those we know. If you lead prayers in our services, please include the two prayers each time, also in your own prayer times, please include these words. The cards are available in all churches.
